The Untold Story: Labor In Rural NSW

J. R Hallam

Voices: finding and celebrating the untold stories of. 4 Mar 2017. The story of European settlement in the Cowpastures is intimately connected. The convicts were a form of forced labour, with a global history that goes back to Roman times. Convicts came to New South Wales after the British lost the had a host of skills with town trades dominating over rural workers.